Dear Mr. Gonzalez

I am writing this letter to express my interest in the position of Cross-Platform Application Developer at NextGen Innovations. I am so excited about the opportunity to work in a forward-thinking company where I could contribute to the creation of high quality cross-platform applications.

I am currently studying for a higher degree in Multi-platform Application Development and have completed several certificate courses related to full-stack development, web technologies and software testing. I have experience working with languages such as Java, C#, JavaScript and Python, in summarise I enjoy learning and applying new technologies and I am confident that my background and motivation make me a good fit for your team.

Although I do not have formal work experience in application development yet but on the other hand I have worked on several personal and academic projects that demonstrate my ability to design, building and improving applications. I also have some strong communication skills in English, Valencian/Catalan and Spanish. And I enjoy collaborating with others to achieve professional and common goals. I am available for an interview at your convenience and I can accommodate to flexible schedules. Although I currently do not have my own vehicle, I am fully willing to travel if necessary.

Thank you for considering my candidature. I would be happy to provide more details about myself during an interview.

Yours sincerely,

Kevin Zamora
